New website project

“... Parties highly value efforts to communicate the Ramsar message and to that end the budget includes only modest investment over the coming triennium in the website and other communication technology. Information management is also important and provision is made for some investment here too.”

(From the Conference Report of COP11, page 61).

What is the website project?

An assessment of:

- How people currently use our site
- How information is structured
- How it could be structured better
- How Ramsar communications and information sharing can be improved
Why do we need a new website?

There are three reasons:

Reason 1: Strategic
Reason 2: Practical
Reason 3: Technical
Why do we need a new website?

Reason 1: Strategic

Strengthen strategic positioning of the Ramsar Convention and communicate:

• “What we are about” (Mission)
• “What we want to achieve” (Goals)
• “How we achieve our goals” (Strategies)
• “Results of our goals” (Results)

The website is the key communication tool to share wetland success stories from around the world ...
Why do we need a new website?

Reason 2: Practical

It will help the Ramsar Secretariat:

• To improve efficiency of publishing process
• To find information, faster, easier
• To achieve 2012-13 Work Plan activities, including new RSIS integration
• To demonstrate the impact of the Convention worldwide
Why do we need a new website?

Reason 3: Technical

- Current system support expiring, company no longer will support the website publishing tools
- Need a system that is more flexible, less expensive to maintain, easier to publish

Budget for new website project?

• Approved core budget for website - external vendor/new CMS project and maintenance/hosting costs in 2013-2015.

• The Conference of Parties supports communications work, including improving the Ramsar.org website.

  “... Parties highly value efforts to communicate the Ramsar message and to that end the budget includes only modest investment over the coming triennium in the website and other communication technology. Information management is also important and provision is made for some investment here too.”  (From the Conference Report of COP11, page 61).
Expected benefits for users?

Expected benefits for users?

Who are our users?

NRCs, Donors, WWD participants

CPs, potential CPs, SC, STRP

Focal points (CEPA, National, STRP, NGO, Govt)

AAs, grantees, Regional Networks

IOPs, MoC/MoU partners

Site Mgrs, Wetlands Centre Mgrs
Expected benefits?

Short term benefits (in 2013)

• Prioritise information for partners & constituents to help them increase their capacity to deliver the Convention’s messages

• Engage with Ramsar partners & constituents better

• To share information and expertise better through RSIS and other information portal integration
Medium Term (2014-2015)

A new website helps the Ramsar Communications Team identify key Convention needs, including produce a communications plan that helps us serve the Convention better

Long term (2015 beyond)

Add new features to our website in line with the Convention’s work plan and strategic goals
Thank you!
