

Picture 1

"A Photo of Salal Marsh, which represents the southern part of Hammar Marsh, Where there is dense vegetation, large bio-diversity, buffalo breeders and a harbor for boats newly established. The ceremony was held in the harbor for fortieth anniversary of the founding of the Ramsar Convention, Where the harbor opened on the sidelines of the ceremony in same day."

-----

Picture 2

"Photo for the side of the harbor boats "

---

---

Picture 4

"Side of the gallery photos on the Iraqi Marshlands and held by the Nature Iraq Organization"

-----

Picture 5

"Jassim Al-Asadi delivers a lecture on the occasion of the fortieth anniversary of the establishment of Ramsar Convention."

---

Picture 6

"Picture that represents a part of the exhibition for the books relating to the Iraqi Marshlands, in particular, wetlands in general, And held by Nature Iraq Organization on the sidelines of the celebration includes several publications and books in both Arabic and English, Including a number of versions of the Secretariat of the Ramsar been printed by the Nature Iraq Org."

---

Picture 7

"Picture that represents a part of the exhibition for the books relating to the Iraqi Marshlands, in particular, wetlands in general, And held by Nature Iraq Organization on the sidelines of the celebration includes several publications and books in both Arabic and English, Including a number of versions of the Secretariat of the Ramsar been printed by the Nature Iraq Org."

---

Picture 8

"Side of the poster exhibitions on the environment and biological diversity held by each of the departments of Environment and Agriculture in the province of Basra on the sidelines of the celebration"

---

Picture 9

"Side of the academics and local people who joined in the celebration as they move between the book fairs, drawings and pictures related to wetlands and biodiversity that held on the sidelines of the celebration"

---

Picture 10

"Side of the academics and local people who joined in the celebration as they move between the book fairs, drawings and pictures related to wetlands and biodiversity that held on the sidelines of the celebration"

---

Picture 11

Side of the activity of media and journalist covering the ceremony were broadcast the proceedings of ceremonial and personal interviews with a number of specialist in wetlands included me as well, where the proceedings of the conference and a number of these interviews were broadcasted in a number of satellite channels in the same day of celebration and in the followed day"

---

Picture 12

Interview with Jassim al-Asadi by Al-Hurra Satellite Channel, in which he talked about the importance of the Ramsar Convention, wetlands, and vision for future development of the marshes, this meeting has been shown up on televisions and in the same day of celebration

---

Picture 13

Side of the participants in the celebration where it appears in the first row and second some members of the provincial council of Basra, members of Missan Governorate Council and deputy governor of Basra and The number of directors of government departments in the governorates of Basrah, Dhi Qar, Missan Where there are Iraqi Marshlands dramatically, and a large number of employees in the departments of State, and big audience of local population

---

Picture 14

Side of the participants in the celebration where it appears in the first row and second some members of the provincial council of Basra, members of Missan Governorate Council and deputy governor of Basra and The number of directors of government departments in the governorates of Basrah, Dhi Qar, Missan Where there are Iraqi Marshlands dramatically, and a large number of employees in the departments of State, and big audience of local population

---

Picture 15

Side of the participants in the celebration where it appears in the first row and second some members of the provincial council of Basra, members of Missan Governorate Council and deputy governor of Basra and The number of directors of government departments in the governorates of Basrah, Dhi Qar, Missan Where there are Iraqi Marshlands dramatically, and a large number of employees in the departments of State, and big audience of local population

---

Picture 16

A radio interview with Jassim Al-Asadi by Al-Marbed is a local radio station about the Ramsar Environmental situation in Iraq. The Convention, wetlands and the importance of each, Ceremony was broadcast on the same day and in the background shows models of green villages eco-friendly villages prepared by a number of Italians Architects in cooperation with Nature Iraq Organization for the purpose of implementation by the Iraqi government, which represents a pattern of environment-friendly housing

---

Picture 17

"Side of appreciation certificates distribution to a number of shareholders in the Ceremony and a number of artists in the area of the Iraqi marshlands .the picture show a number of officials of the governorate"

---

Picture 18

" Deputy Governor for Technical Affairs of Basra visit the gallery of pictures on the Iraqi Marshlands that belong Nature Iraq Org. sideline of the ceremony and Jassim al-Asadi was shows to him an explanation of nature of the content of each image displayed and place of capture"

---

Picture 19

" Deputy Governor for Technical Affairs of Basra visit the gallery of pictures on the Iraqi Marshlands that belong Nature Iraq Org. sideline of the ceremony and Jassim al-Asadi was shows to him an explanation of nature of the content of each image displayed and place of capture"

---

Picture 20

"Jassim al-Asadi shows an explanation for a number of officials of the province of Basra, led by Technical deputy of Basra governor and on a number of maps that represent the Marshlands of Iraq and the address to the National Park in the Central marshes and to the hydraulic system for a number of Iraqi Marshlands."

---